

Pilgrimage

Pilgrimage is a LARP. One player is the wanderer, a pilgrim seeking the truth about God as they live their life. The other players are angels, who speak a truth about God to the wanderer, and demons, who speak a truth about God, a falsehood about God, or a mixture of both. While on the pilgrimage, the wanderer should take each truth and transcribe it in written or visual form. This can be anything from a post-it note to a photograph to a poem. When the wanderer feels ready, they should compile these transcriptions into a single, physical artifact: a book of their journey towards God.

CARD FRONT

Pilgrimage

Pilgrimage is a LARP. One player is the wanderer, a pilgrim seeking the truth about God as they live their life. The other players are angels, who speak a truth about God to the wanderer, and demons, who speak a truth about God, a falsehood about God, or a mixture of both. While on the pilgrimage, the wanderer should take each truth and transcribe it in written or visual form. This can be anything from a post-it note to a photograph to a poem. When the wanderer feels ready, they should compile these transcriptions into a single, physical artifact: a book of their journey towards God.

CARD FRONT

Pilgrimage

Pilgrimage is a LARP. One player is the wanderer, a pilgrim seeking the truth about God as they live their life. The other players are angels, who speak a truth about God to the wanderer, and demons, who speak a truth about God, a falsehood about God, or a mixture of both. While on the pilgrimage, the wanderer should take each truth and transcribe it in written or visual form. This can be anything from a post-it note to a photograph to a poem. When the wanderer feels ready, they should compile these transcriptions into a single, physical artifact: a book of their journey towards God.

CARD FRONT

Pilgrimage

Pilgrimage is a LARP. One player is the wanderer, a pilgrim seeking the truth about God as they live their life. The other players are angels, who speak a truth about God to the wanderer, and demons, who speak a truth about God, a falsehood about God, or a mixture of both. While on the pilgrimage, the wanderer should take each truth and transcribe it in written or visual form. This can be anything from a post-it note to a photograph to a poem. When the wanderer feels ready, they should compile these transcriptions into a single, physical artifact: a book of their journey towards God.

CARD FRONT

The Wanderer

Angels have signifiers with stars, the sun, or wings. They will always tell you a truth about God, but not always directly.

Demons have signifiers with sickles or scythes. They may tell you a lie about God, a truth about God, or a half-truth.

CARD BACK

The Wanderer

Angels have signifiers with stars, the sun, or wings. They will always tell you a truth about God, but not always directly.

Demons have signifiers with sickles or scythes. They may tell you a lie about God, a truth about God, or a half-truth.

CARD BACK

The Wanderer

Angels have signifiers with stars, the sun, or wings. They will always tell you a truth about God, but not always directly.

Demons have signifiers with sickles or scythes. They may tell you a lie about God, a truth about God, or a half-truth.

CARD BACK

The Wanderer

Angels have signifiers with stars, the sun, or wings. They will always tell you a truth about God, but not always directly.

Demons have signifiers with sickles or scythes. They may tell you a lie about God, a truth about God, or a half-truth.

CARD BACK